CASE--JUDGE BUTLER

The Government's Effort to Obtain Possession of the Battlefield to Preserve It From Trolley Companies Ruled Against on Points of Law-May Go to the Enited States Supreme Court.

Judge Dallas filed an opinion in the United States Circuit Court, last Tuesday, in favor of the Gettysburg Electric Railway Company in the dispute over the taking of land by the United States preserve the battlefield. Judge Buter filed a dissenting opinion.

The argument took place last menth Trexler will bring suit. The company will pay the tax on poles and wires. The jury of seven which heard the testimony awarded the railway company $30, 900, to be paid by the United States to it as damages. Before the appointment of the jury, however, several questions of law were reserved for hearing, and hey were the substance of the main portion of the argument.

CLEAN UP THE TOWN.

The statement frequently made by strangers that Gettysburg is very far from a clean place does not appear to be without foundation. This same matter is being appreciated and discussed by our citizens who will presently demand that the council save in some other way or get more revenue for the purpose of keeping the town cleaner, and many of them think that some system of sprinkling the streets expedient. Cleanliness is a matter of beauty as well as of healthfulness. Both should have due consideration. Gettysburg differs from many other towns in having large crowds, especially during the summer months, and has more dirt in consequence of these crowds, but in the face of that fact there does not seem to be any system of cleaning the streets whatever, and refuse stays from one year's end to another. Occasionally we see a little scraping of the streets, here and there, but only when the thing gets particularly bad.

A system of prevention as well as of cure will be of benefit. Prevention will consist in an ordinance, if there be none, prohibiting the placing of refuse on the highways, and in the observance of such an ordinance. The street here for some business places is dirty continually. If the Borough can not keep these places clean an ordinance compelling proprietors to keep them so may be of some avail. In any case it ought to be somebody's duty to attent to such places as are so fonl as that an actual stanch arises.

The Gettysburg Muddle. The Philadelphia Times has the follow-ng to say on the Trolley case. It treats of the legal side of the case. of the legal side of the case.

"It has been the practice of this State and of the States generally, to specially confer upon the government the right to take property by condemnation within the Common wealth for government purposes. The property already owned by the United States on the Gettysburg field was acquired under authority of an act of the Legislature of 1889, which was supposed to be under authority of an act of the Legisla-ture of 1889, which was supposed to be sufficient for the purpose. If we interpret Judge Dallus' decision correctly, the whole difficulty can be avoided at once by the Pennsylvania Legislature promptly and expressly delegating to the General Gov-ernment, by a supplementary act, the right to take the property by condemna-tion proceedings in the United States courts for the preservation of the Getter security and construction of the power of Congress and the Received and considerate the preservation of the Hastifieldia proper.

Never in the history of agriculture has the discovery of a new economic plant been more opportune. Crimson Clover was known to a lew of our farmers over thirty years ago, but for more than a quarter of a century the fassi intake was made of trying to reproduce the crop from imported seed. Not until a native strain of hardy seed was developed did the wonderful value of the crop become known. asie to commence at 2 ocuses, presents will be made known by MIZELL & LIVERS. The great mission of Crimson Clover is to furnish an abundance of most natri-Executor's Notice. tive forage at seasons when our pastures are dead. It is the source of an unfailing supply of manure—in fact it solves the problem of cheap manuring.

It is the great nitrogen gatherer and economizer in the use of fertilizers. etter Prices Than Wheat and the Yield is Larger.

The potato, not wheat, is the civilized world's staple food. The principal European countries that produced close upor three billion bushels of potatoes in 1893 raised two billions of wheat, all their imports did not make the wheat supply ap preach the consummation of potatoes In America this condition is reversed the potato crop is averaging only 33 to 50 per cent. of the amount of wheat. Yet potatoes now bring more money per bushel than wheat, and yield five or eight times as many bushels per acre. The average yield per acre for the five crops 1890-4 was of potatoes 67 bushels and of wheat 13 bushels, while the December farm price has averaged 60c. and 66c. respectively. Potatoes are worth fully as much for this period as during a like period 15 years ago, while wheat has declined over 50 per cent., cotton quite as much, wool even more. The conclu sion is irrestible that the potato may be more extensively grown than at present and still be more profitable than many other staple crops. It has been one of the best money crops for the Colorado farmer for many years. This fact will be quickly grasped by farmers generally, and the new year is likely to witness boom in potato growing.

A Two Acre Farm.

On the narrow strip of land lying be tween the river and the track of the Western New York and Pennsylvania Railroad, at the northern extremity of Eldred, Pa., is to be found the banne farm of McKean county. Here in a neat little cottage, lives F. Segling, wife, and five children-three boys and two girlsall of whom derived their means of livelihood from their two acre farm. Queer is it not, when we hear so much of inability to make a living for smaller families on much larger farms.

The gentleman purchased the laud and built the cottage while working as a carpenter. Three years ago his phys ical condition necessitated a change of occupation. Then with that faith in mother earth which we believe is more fully developed in the better class of Germans than any other people, he turned to his farm and promptly decided that on a plantation of the size, quality, not quantity, must be the maxim, and that in no other line could he reach his deal so nearly as in the cultivation of celery, Spurred by his necessities and supported by any amount of quiet determination, he proceeded on this theory. From the beginning his success has been flattering, and last fall he stood ready to market 30,000 stalks of celery, one-third blanched and two-thirds of the self-Mr. Segling finds work the year round, and nine-tenths of his time is spent on Sunday School Libraries half an acre, for, although the farm comprises two acres, but one-fourth of it is in celery the remainder being garden Upon this half acre there has been deposited this year 150 one horse loads of manure. You will observe that in three particulars - i. e., the amount of work, the quantity of manure and the value of the crop-it compares favorably with most farms. Mr. Segling says the last two years have been disastrous to eelery, this year especially so, on account of the To offset this he has purchased a fifteen horse power boiler and a steam pump, and as a creater of rain storms he can give the Government experts in this line cards and spades and then

He has the entire Alleghany River at his command, and it is a clear case of disaster to drouth on his farm. In answer to further questions Mr. Segling said that, while he was not getting rich, he was making a living for himself and family and was independent. Think of independence for a family of seven, maintained on two acres!-Mount Jewett

The Farmer's Workshop.

Every farmer should have a workshop and the necessary tools to work with especially at this time when prepa rations are being necessary for work. He will rapidly learn to attend to most of his own repairing of the ordinary implements and machines upon his premises instead of incurring the delay, expense and uncertainty of depending on professionals at a distance. A perso becomes very expert in the use of good tools after a short time experience, and may thus save many a dollar withou consuming any time necessary for the usual demands of the same. While all are willing to admit that the habit of sconomy is a useful, practical and most desirable one, few would think of at-tributing to it anything of beauty or attractiveness. Yet the economy of money, or its best use, for they are synonymous, has in it this very element. Those who live fully up to or beyond their income, in the wearisome effort to build up to, or keep up a certain style of appearance, really, though unconscioly, sacrifice the very attractiveness which they seek to gain. The difficult and painful effort which it cost, they fully realize, but they imagine it to be hidden from all but themselves, and hereig lies their great mistake.

A Boy's composition on hens reads as follows: "Hens is curious animals. They don't have no nose, nor no teeth, nor no ears. They swaller their vittles whole, and chew it up in their crops inside of 'em. The outside of hens is generally put into pillers and feather dusters. The inside of a hen is sometimes filled up with marbles and shirt buttons and sich. A hen is very much smaller than a good many other animais, but they'll dig up more potato plants than anything that ain't a hon. Hens is very useful to lay eggs for plum pudding. I like plum pudding. Skinny Bates eat so much plum pudding once that it set him into the collery. Hens have got wings, and can fly when they are scart. I cut my Uncle William's hen's neck off with a hatchet, and it scart ber to death. Hens sometimes make very fine spring Horses Against High Beef.

PENDLETON, ORE., April 21. - J. M. Switzyesterday sold 3000 horses to a Portland syndicate. The animals are to sand syndrame. The animats are to se slaughtered at Portland, Mr. Switzler says, and the meat packed and all parts of the carcasses utilized. This is now the only market for the thousands of horses in Eastern Oregon and Washington ranges. The price was less than $5 per head.

An exchange says there can no longer be any doubt but that prosperity again mailes upon America. News from Washington confirms this opinion as a correspondent from that city claims that over one hundred newly married couples since Easter have cought that spot to rejoice in their newly found happiness. The correspondent gives a his main reason in believing a retora of prosperity that there must be improvement in business to permat no many young men to undertake the responsibilities attaching to the heads of families.

There are so many steps to be taken; a window cut through into the pantry, or a better arrangement of the sink; a wood-box exactly in the right place (filled from the outside, it may be). or any one of a dozen little expert conrivances for some one handy with tools may give quite a new aspect to the daily

From The Country Gentlem

After the larger requirements are met the good stove, with enough and not too many utensils; the good water supply and disposal of waste; the doors and windows and floors that need no weather strips or other additional protection; the convenient arrangement for putting away food and table furniture; these are many little comforts worth thinking about. These may seem to be very slight things, and yet in the aggregate they may have an important influence in letermining domestic comfort and contentment. Such little things are a comfortable low rocking-chair in which to rest at odd moments, or a high stool, convenient for many kinds of work, to spare the incessant "being on her feet," which injures the health of too many women. An abundance of holders and mats and oven-cloths will often save both the temper and the fingers; we can all have things like these, but we sometimes forget to provide them until some enalties are paid for the neglect. Would it not be a good plan to devote a week to the kitchen comforts, giving up

> DH.R.G. Cut This Out.

Not only cut this out but keep it where you can find it for ready reference. One of the most useful things in a kitchen is ticketed and labelled in one's mind. Two stout paper bags should be kept

Two stout paper bags should be kept bung up in a dry place in the pantry—one for bits of stale bread, the other for stale cake and broken fancy crackers. The wise househeeper does not need to be told what to do with these remnants. be told what to do with these remnants Red pepper pods or bits of charcoal will neutralize the odor from boiling nam or cabbage. Throw them in the water, have the article well covered with water and keep the cover on.

Cold rice, hominy or macaroni hashed fine and mixed with minced cold meats or fish makes nice cronnettes. or fish makes nice croquettes. The creaking of a bed or a crib with each movement of the sleeper is most annoying to a nervous or sensitive person. To remedy it remove the slats and FURNACES & RANGES wedge them tightly into position. wrap the ends of each in paper; then Wet boots may be softened by rubbing ess likely to crack. One of Australia's Wonders.

Among the strange stories told about the wonderful things to be found in Australia there is one of crawling leaves, says the New Orleans Picayune. English sailors first brought an account of this phenomenon. They were roaming along the coast when a sudden breeze shook down a number of leaves, which floated gently to the ground. The sailors were surprised at this shower, because it was not the Fall of the year, but mid-Summer, and the falling leaves looked fresh and green. But this was nothing to what followed. After a short rest came. The sailors were too much frightened to stop and investigate and one of the men said, in relating the adventure, that he expected every minute to see the trees step out and dance a hornpipe. Fortunately other travelers were not too much frightened to stop and examine the matter. It was discovered that hese queer leaves are really insects which live upon the trees and are of the same color as the foliage. They have very thin, flat bodies and wings shaped like large leaves. When disturbed by a breeze they fold their legs under their odies, and then the leaf-like shape, with stem and all, is complete. Not only are they bright green in Summer, like the foliage of the trees at that time, but they actually change like the leaves do to the dull brown produced by frost Another peculiarity of these insects i that when shaken to the ground they seldom use their wings. After lying there for a few minutes, as though they were really leaves, they crawl to the tree and ascend the trunk without seeming to know that they have the power to get back to their quarters in a much easier and quicker way.

A RACE WAR IMMINENT.—Atlanta, Ga. April 24.—Intense excitement has prevailed at Forsythe, Ga., this morning and a race riot seems imminent. After the killing of a negro by a bailiff and three deputies, a mob of armed negroes met and breatened to make an outbreak.

They had three deputies, Charles Searcy, D. B. Williams and Lum Harrison, arrestd tor murder. The negroes still threater o kill the prisoners if they are released. THE lie that flatters I abhor the most. -Cooper.

A Pure Baking Powder. A baking powder that can be depended upon to be free from lime and alum is a desideratum in these days of adulterated food. So far as can be judged from the official reports, the "Royal" seems to be the only one yet found by chemical analyses to be entirely without one or the other of these substances, and absolutely pure. This, it is shown, results from the exclusive use by its manufacturers of cream of tarter specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal," the manufacturers of which control the patents under which it is refined.

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U.S. Government, who made the analyses for the New York State. Board of Health in their investigation of baking powders, and whose intimate knowledge of the ingredients of all those sold in this market enables him to speak authoritatively, says of the purity, whole-someness and superior quality of the official reports, the "Royal" seems to be

"If find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substances."
Prof. Love's tests, and the recent official tests by both the United States and Canadian Governments, show the Royal Baking Powder to be superior to all others in strength and leavening power. It is not only the most exponential in use, but makes the purest, finest flavored and most wholesome food, Suspicion was directed against a particular individual, but no evidence was offered in support. Dow said nothing in reply, hardly asked a uestion, appeared to take little interest n the report; but that evening when he came to preach it was noticed with surprise that he entered the pulpit axe in hand. Before he began the sermon the glittering tool was laid upon the pulpi cushion. The address was a powerful assault against every form of theft, and when the interest of the hearers had reached a climax the orator suddenly paused in the midst of the breathle ilence, and, lifting the axe above the pulpit, exclaimed: "But, by friends, I m told that a rogue has been among you; that he has recently broken the eighth commandment, and is probably a guilty attendant upon the service of this hour. Therefore I will proceed to point out the culprit by throwing this axe at as guilty head;" and with this he poised astonishment of the people, a man who sat close to the alter swiftly and involuntarily ducked his head behind a pew The culprit was detected.
